SCHOOL TEACHERS TO ENJOY TREAT

Through Kindness of Manager Jackson of Smith's Theatre.

To Hear Fred Niblo Travel Talk at Smith's Tomorrow Night.

Through the kindness of Manager Jackson, of Smith's theatre, and Fred Niblo, every school teacher in the city will be enabled to hear Mr. Niblo's second "Travel Talk" to-morrow evening upon "Egypt, from Cairo to Khartoum." This morning Resident Manager Culver, on behalf of the two gentlemen above named, presented Supt. Deane, of the Board of Education with complimentary tickets, which have been given to the teachers of the public schools, for whom a large block of seats in the big theatre has been obtained. With the co-operation of Dr. Deane, the teachers will certainly enjoy a treat to-morrow evening.

Mr. Niblo's "Talk" to-morrow evening is said to be one of the best in his repertoire. It comprises views, in every conceivable form, of Cairo, its natives and its customs, and then, in Mr. Niblo's "zig zag" style, going up the Nile to the city of Khartoum. The views accompanying this talk are said to be the finest in Mr. Niblo's entire collection, as the sunny skies and the atmospheric conditions prevailing in the land of the Pharaohs enabled him to secure some of the finest specimens of photography ever taken.

The third and last of Mr. Niblo's present series of "Talks of Travel in Distant Lands" will be given next Tuesday evening, the subject being "Russia, from the Black Sea to Siberia." Both of these remaining "Talks" should be heard by enormous audiences, for this is without doubt one of the most interesting and instructive entertainments ever offered to the public.

PHARMACISTS ASK

CHANGE IN LAW

Call for Modification of Food and Drug Act—Do Not Wish to Advertise Their Applications for License.

Hartford, April 28.—The pharmacy commissioners and the dairy commissioner told their respective troubles to the judiciary committee yesterday in a hearing on a bill intended to codify the pharmacy laws and to do various other things. Arthur L. Shipman appeared for the pharmacists, and gave a lengthy explanation of the bill. It has a restrictive clause regarding the granting of licenses to druggists which tends to put out of business the store which makes a specialty of the sale of liquor, but it tempers the wind to the shorn druggist by providing that he need not secure a license to his application for a license nor publish his application in a newspaper.

The parts of the bill in which the druggists seemed most interested were those referring to the operations of the pure food and drug act. Mr. Shipman objected to the features of it affecting the pharmacists. His bill provides that when action is taken on pharmacy matters by the dairy commissioner and a man from the experiment station, of the board of the department of pharmacy shall act with them. It further provides that when mixtures are made in accordance with U. S. P. formulae the label need not contain the ingredients contained therein and another change provides that the contents of medicines bought by the druggist before January 1, 1908, need not be given on the wrapper, it being sufficient for the druggist to mark them "Bought prior to January 1, 1908."

Lawyer Robert J. Woodruff of New Haven appeared in opposition to the bill for the dairy commissioner. Mr. Woodruff said there is no objection on his part to revision of the pharmacy laws, but why bring in the change in the matter of licenses? It is working no especial hardship upon the druggist at present. He objected especially to the section providing that the contents of U. S. P. preparations need not be made public on the label or wrapper and to the "Bought before January 1, 1908" clause, saying that if it became effective druggists would be selling goods with that label for the next ten years.

STILL MISSING

Bondsman of Beisel Worrying Over Absence of Old Man.

Henry Beisel who is charged with causing the death of Michael Kosa, the boy who died from ruptured intestines at St. Vincent's hospital two weeks ago, is still missing. It is believed that the old man is in New York city and that his absence is due to fear which has been instilled in his mind by his neighbors who picture the horrors which he would undergo as the result of the boy's death.

Edward Postol, grocer, of 1932 Main street, gave bond of $500 for Beisel in the suit for $2,000 damages brought by the boy's father. He has now been called upon to give special bail of $500 to take the place of this bond. Postol is not a rich man and he is anxious to produce Beisel. The old man has no estate and the little store in Hallett street is owned by his wife.

NO CHANGE IN TIME OF OPERATING CARS SAYS CHAPMAN

Supt. Chapman of the Connecticut Co., stated to-day that there would be no change in the operating time of the local lines caused by the location of all the cars of the company at the Stratford avenue barns after May 17. The only effect of the change made is that the men who reside near the Barnum avenue barn will have a greater distance to travel in reporting for work. There are about 125 employees affected by the change. The barns in Barnum avenue have been purchased by the Union Metallic Cartridge Co.

Weather Indications.

New Haven, April 28.—Forecast: Fair and colder tonight; Thursday fair and warmer.

The storm that was central in the Lake region yesterday morning has moved eastward and is now central off the coast near Nantucket. It is followed by an area of high pressure that is producing cool, pleasant weather in nearly all sections east of the Rocky Mountains.

Conditions favor for this vicinity fair weather with low temperature and probably cool tonight, followed by slowly rising temperature on Thursday.

PAUL MORTON URGES LIFE INSURANCE FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

(Special from United Press.)

New Haven, April 28.—The exceptional opportunities to a college graduate who embraces the career of a life insurance agent are indicated to-day in the Yale News in an article by Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, and an acknowledged authority on insurance.

"I know of no better field than this for a man who has finished his college education and is thrown on his own resources," says Mr. Morton, "for he can begin without capital and earn a living while he is learning his trade. The young man who represents a prominent life insurance company follows a dignified calling which deserves to be classed with the learned professions. It is a stimulating pursuit sharpening the wits and hardening the muscles."

"There is another reason why college graduates can well afford to turn to life insurance for employment at this time. Progress in life insurance was seriously retarded in 1905 and 1906 and the companies lost some of their agents. On the other hand the practice of life insurance has been revived and reformed; the companies have been rehabilitated; the people have been educated and are ready to insure and there are not enough agents to do the necessary work."

LIQUOR DEALERS DESIRE A CHANGE IN PRESENT LAW

The bill allowing saloon keepers to serve liquor in their offices and permitting the establishment of such an office in saloons was heard before the excise committee in Hartford yesterday afternoon. The measure was supported by the liquor interests. It was claimed that they desired this privilege for the purpose of serving drinks to persons they did business with. A bill doing away with the office privilege in saloons was passed by the Legislature of 1907. The opposition claimed they did not believe the liquor people, when they said all they wanted this privilege for was to accommodate the people with whom they did business. They thought it would be only establishing another room to be frequented by young girls and women and young men. Mr. Kendall interrupted to say that a clause prohibiting the presence of women in the room could be added, if the committee wished.

ANNOUNCEMENT

It gives us pleasure to announce that beginning Monday, May 3, and continuing through the week, there will be given at Warner Hall, Y. M. C. A., a course of

Cooking Lectures

by the celebrated cooking expert

Mrs. Helen Armstrong

to which all the ladies of Bridgeport are invited.

THERE are finer results obtainable with a gas range in the way of fine cooking, than most people are aware of. And there are many ways of saving gas that are not ordinarily used.

Mrs. Armstrong has devoted years to the subject; she has a national reputation as a gas range cooking expert, and there is not a cook or a housewife in Bridgeport who would not be well repaid for attending these lectures. Mrs. Armstrong works on the Acorn Range, which has many new and desirable features for convenience, safety and economy. It is the constant aim of this company to assist its patrons to get the best possible services from gas at the least possible expense. If we can show you how to reduce your gas bill we want to do it, for the cost to us will be offset many times by the increase in the number of gas users when they become convinced that the best way and the cheapest way to cook is to cook with gas.

Every lady in Bridgeport should see the special announcement in our show window.
